OREC to Connect two new Sites

Vineyard and Rugby Park Both Unique Partners

The Ottawa Renewable Energy Co-operative is happy to announce that two high-profile sites are almost ready to be connected to the grid! Installation was completed at Twin Elm Rugby Park just before hosting an international match between Canada and Russia on June 16th. Meanwhile, in Carp, installation is wrapping up on KIN Vineyard's production building, and will be completed this week. As one of the top wineries in the Ottawa Valley, KIN Vineyards is constantly seeking ways to improve its relationship with the land on which it works. Read our most recent blog post to learn more about these exciting projects.

Despite Green ON Closure, Still Incredible Opportunity

The Ottawa Renewable Energy Co-operative is seeking innovative businesses and institutions to partner with to provide free solar and stable hydro bills for 30 years, as the graph above demonstrates. This remains a fantastic opportunity, even with the closing of the Green ON Fund and the cancellation of the solar rebates which were part of that program. The Co-operative invites all those interested to visit the link below, and complete a short intake form to determine whether this cost-saving opportunity is the right fit for you and your property.

ENERGY RETROFITS

Seeking Non-Profit Partners

Opportunity for Energy Efficiency Upgrades

As the Ottawa Renewable Energy Co-operative works towards developing an increasingly diverse business model, we are searching for non-profit enterprises interested in free energy efficiency services alongside the net metered solar projects. These organizations must own their buildings, and ideally have large roofs. If you are aware of an organization which could benefit from reduced energy costs, please fill out our intake form by clicking the button below.
